

Dax Outlook 2015 W43

Expectations about further money injections by the central banks and a more unlikely gotten FED interest rate rise.

The MACD is bullish, the RSI in an Uptrend at 53.99 and the VDAX is down to 20.96.

Even though it looks a bit more like we could enter the year end rally now, the Dax is still within the downward trend channel. Friday's candle is almost a doji which could set an end to the recent recovery and move us back to the 9'300s. Both the Up- and Down-Scenario seem to be possible next week. I tend a bit more towards the upward move.
